1. In November 1952 two United Nations propeller-driven fighter planes crashed in the Hamhung area, and both pilots were killed. One body could not be found in the wreckage, but the other body was carried to Hamhung and exhibited in the market place. The persons carrying the body shouted, "See the ugly face of the man who has destroyed our houses and families".
2. Many people sympathized with United Nations pilots, but were afraid to help them because they could be killed for doing so.
